

FX RISK CONTROL FOR AFRICAN TRADE

The rate will move. Your margin doesn't have to.

See what every foreign invoice is worth in cedis today,
what your exposure could cost you, and which licensed bank offers the best rate — before settlement day, not after.

THIS IS FOR

Finance Directors Finance Ops Owners

Your FX cost has a number. You should know it before month-end, not after.

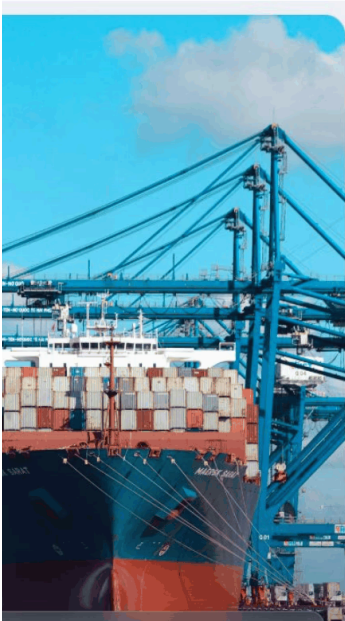

The leak is invisible until the month — sometimes quarter — closes. And by then, the margin you reported to the board is already gone. For businesses in your volume range, that leak runs between 1 to 7% of the trade. NOEUD marks every open invoice to the cedi commercial midrate, continuously, so the number sits on your dashboard instead of surfacing in your reconciliation.

h-end, not after.

— and by then, the margin you volume range, that leak runs the cedi commercial midrate, ing in your reconciliation.

FOR EXPORTERS

Your dollars are worth something the day you invoice.

Cocoa, cashew, shea, manufactured goods and forex-earning services — if you earn abroad and settle at home, the cedi margin quietly leaks. NOEUD values your receivables live and lets banks compete to convert them fairly.

FOUNDER NOTE

"I watched good businesses lose margin they never saw leave — decided in a room they were never invited into. NOEUD doesn't promise to beat the market. It promises you'll be in the room, with the numbers, while the decision can still be made."
